- I can talk about buildings and structures.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people

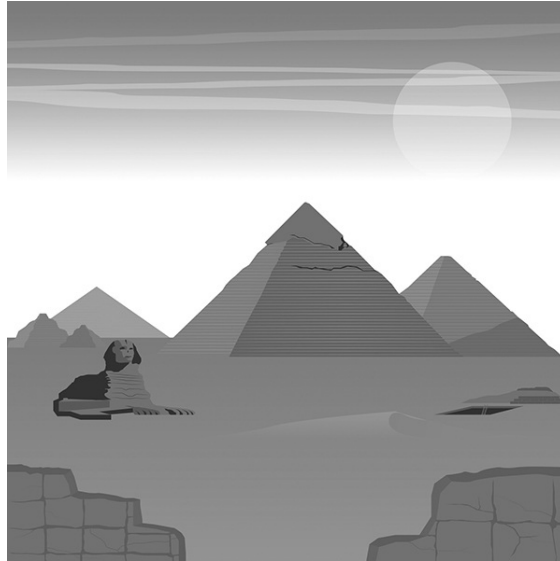

Let's Explore!

Sally goes to the Great Pyramid at Giza.

* The Pyramid of Cheops is also called the "Great Pyramid".

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally's Suitcase

Today I went to see the Great Pyramid at Giza. I caught a white taxi on the street outside the hotel. When I got to the complex, I walked around the pyramid. I tried to imagine what it looked like long ago.

I joined the tour and followed the guide into the Great Pyramid. We only went about 89 feet, but it seemed much further. The passage was low and narrow. We had to bend down low as we walked. People coming out squeezed by us!

Next we moved up to the King's Chamber. It was empty, hot and airless! The pressure inside felt immense - all those stone blocks pushing in! We stayed about 10 minutes then slowly made our way back out. It was an unforgettable experience.

Learning Points

The Simple Past tense

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about events or actions that are finished.

Very often, you use a word or expression of finished time with this tense. However, when the whole paragraph or story is in the past, you do not need to keep adding time expressions.

Verb	Verb Meaning
caught	got/got into
tried	did with no success
seemed	gave the impression
felt	gave the feeling
stayed	remained in the place
made our way	went

Examples:

- We stayed about 10 minutes.
- Then we slowly made our way back out.
