Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and places in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How do you feel when your vacation is over?
- Are you relieved? Tired? Happy to go home?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about travel and places around the world.
- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can express opinions with varying degrees of certainty.
- I can talk about the reason for something.

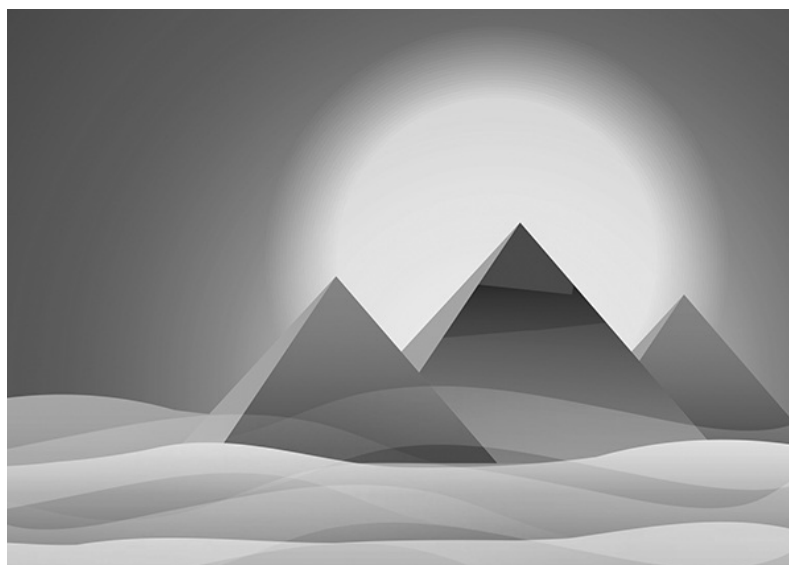

Let's Explore!

Sally had to count her steps to stay calm in the pyramid!

* When you feel stressed you want to try "to stay calm" rather than get upset.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hey V! How are things?

Vanessa: Okay I guess. Problems with Marco! Can you help me take my mind off it?

Sally: No problem! I went on a traditional Nile boat today. We sailed away from the cars and traffic. I think it was the best thing so far!

Vanessa: Wow! Could you tell me about the pyramids?

Sally: Sure! I went to the one at Giza! The taxi fare was so cheap! We bent down to go inside. We squeezed against people to get by them!

Vanessa: Ugh!

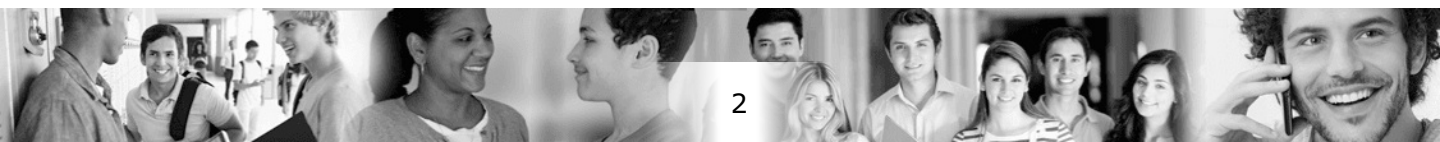

Sally: It was so hot! I counted each step to keep calm on the way out!

Vanessa: Could you send me some pictures to look at?

Sally: I'd be happy to. I believe my pictures are getting better.

Vanessa: Peter is still working and studying. I'd say he's starting to grow up!

Sally: Amazing!

Let's Practice!

Sally makes requests and gives opinions.

Instructions: Read the text. Check off the correct box in the table. There is one answer per question.

	Make a Request	Respond to a Request	Express an Opinion
No problem!
I believe my pictures are getting better.
Could you tell me about the pyramids?

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Requests

When you make and respond to requests, remember to be polite!

Making Requests	Responding to Requests
Would you ... ? I'd like to ... Would you mind (if) ... ? Would ... be okay? Would you mind if ... ? I was wondering if ... Could you ... ? Do you think you could ... ? Is there any chance you could ... ?	Sure, I'll ... Sure, I'd be glad to ... No, not at all. Certainly. Yes, of course. I'll see what I can do. I don't mind at all. Of course we can ... No problem.

The Simple Past Tense

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about events or actions that are finished.

To make questions and negatives in the Simple Past tense, you use the auxiliary do in the past - did. The main verb is in the base form - the infinitive without to (e.g., ask, understand).

Negative: I didn't understand you.

Question: Did you ask me a question?

Verb	Simple Past form
sail	sailed
bend	bent
take	took
keep	kept
get	got

Examples:

- We bent down to go inside.
- We squeezed against people to get by them!
